Wendy Cayias began her multi-faceted position with NACVA® and the CTI™ in 2001. After 16 years of “behind the scenes” logistics, Wendy was offered the opportunity to transition into an updated role within the company. For the last two years, she has been backup moderator on webinars and online training broadcasts, and this aspect of the job will continue to grow. Online learning is an important component that brings the presenters together with members to help them grow in the business valuation arena and thrive in their practices. Wendy will also be managing the standardizing of NACVA’s database as well as digitizing our member files. She is part of the quality review team, support staff, communications, and administrative backup. Her goal is to progress and expand within the NACVA organization, while learning as much as possible along the way. She remains committed to supporting our members and helping them to succeed. She enjoys the "family" work environment within NACVA and looks forward to many more years of achievements. When not at work, Wendy enjoys spending time with her grandsons and is involved with various charities, including: YWCA, The Road Home, Canines with a Cause, and the Humane Society.
